“Build it and they will come” may have been what Denverites E. C. Regnier and Roger Ewalt were thinking in 1920 when they first decided to develop an African American resort. For the next 40 years Lincoln Hills would become a Colorado oasis. If you were an African American in the 1920’s you had little, if any choice of where to go to escape from segregation, prejudice and the Ku Kluz Klan. Mr. Regnier and Mr. Ewalt sought to remedy this problem. They formed the Lincoln Hills Development Company (LHDC) with an office located in the Quincy building in Denver. This was to become the only Rocky Mountain African American owned and developed resort west of the Mississippi. There were only two other such resorts in the whole United States – Idlewild in Michigan and Oak Bluffs on Martha’s Vineyard.

In 1925, the Lincoln Hills Company under the name of “The Greater Lincoln Hills of the Future” began advertising and selling lots. The property was 30 plus miles west of Denver, in Gilpin County, near Nederland, Rollinsville and Pine Cliff. It was easily reached by the D&SL - Denver & Salt Lake railroad. It was located in a heavily wooded area, about a mile from Boulder Creek, in the foothills. At one time it was part of the gold mining companies of Central City. A four page advertisement published photos showing the beauty of the area and urging folks to join as land owners. With just $5.00 down and $5.00 per month the purchaser gained membership in the country club, fly fishing privileges, a fine BBQ pit, a fine lake, and clean linens. Letters of endorsement were published from Denver groups, the Shorter Methodist Episcopal Church, the YMCA, the Lincoln Community Center in Waukegan, Illinois, prominent black citizens and many others.

The wonderful things Lincoln Hills offered, according to a letter written in 1926 by the Pastor of the Zion Baptist Church in Denver were: “A beautiful spot for camp, cabin or summer home. A cool invigorating summer climate which is the finest tonic for people who have had a hard year of work. A large track of land containing 2 miles of trout stream, 4 creeks and a fine lake stocked with trout. A Railroad and 4 auto roads to the resort. A summer colony where lots are being sold at such low rates that buyers will make money even if they never use them themselves. A place where our race can show to the nation a constructive piece of work, in the up building of a great national gathering place for health, recreation, education and uplift.”

The resort area extended over 100 acres in which 600 lots were sold in the 1920s and 1930s. The lots were mainly 25’ X 100’ and sold for $50.00 to $100.00 each. Owners built cabins or used their sites for camping. People from all over the United States purchased lots. The first period of growth started when Obrey Wendall “Winks” Hamlet and his wife Naomi began construction of Winks Lodge in 1925. It became known as Winks Panorama. It was completed in 1928. It consisted of three stories with six bedrooms and over time a tavern, a honeymoon cabin, an “orange cabin”, a “tin house”, and a “three-plex cabin” were added.

Cabins then and now

Food was served on the large veranda of Panorama that had been built for the view. Winks even advertized nationally in Ebony Magazine, one of the first black magazines in the country. Winks lodge drew many noted African Americans. Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Lena Horn and Billy Eckstine were among those who visited. They would visit before and after their performances in jazz venues in Denver. In addition Winks and Naomi would host readings and literary salons of the Harlem Renaissance featuring such national treasures as Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston and Countee Cullen.

Melba & Winks by Jess E DuBois

Winks second wife, Melba was a fantastic cook and guests came from far and wide to have her “Best barbeque offered outside Kansas City.” Winks continued to operate the lodge until his death in 1965 and Melba continued into the 1970’s.

In 1927 a YMCA girl’s camp was established on the Lincoln Hills property by the Phyllis Wheatly branch of the YMCA. It was named “Camp Nizhoni” derived from the Navajo word for beautiful. African American women and girls were not allowed at the YMCA Lookout Mountain camp in Colorado. Thus a permanent camp was established at Lincoln Hills. As many as 50 girls attended every summer for almost 20 years. They hiked, swam, learned about biology, astronomy and outdoor skills. The camp was closed in 1945 when integration took place at Camp Lookout.

In 1964 with the successful passage of the Civil Rights Act, African American families gained access to other fine resorts throughout the United States. The role the Lincoln Hills oasis provided throughout the Great Depression, post WW II, and into the mid 1960's has not been forgotten. That oasis in the Rocky Mountains provided for a safe and wonderful place for so many.

Letters of encouragement and success for Lincoln Hills, Gilpin County, Colorado

Denver, Colorado.
March 17, 1926.

Gentlemen:-

Lincoln Hills, near Denver, where I have purchased 4 lots and where I have visited on different occasions, offers many unique advantages to our group:

1. A beautiful spot for camp, or cabin or fine Summer home.
2. A cool, invigorating Summer climate which is the finest known tonic for people who have had a hard year of work.
3. A large tract of land containing 2 miles of Trout stream, beside 4 creeks and a fine lake stocked with trout.
4. A railroad and 4 auto roads from Denver to the resort.
5. A Summer colony where lots are being sold at such a very low price that buyers will make money on the lots even if they never use them themselves.
6. A place where our race can show to the Nation a constructive piece of work, in the upbuilding of a great National gathering place for health, recreation, education and uplift.

This demonstration of our creative ability seems to me to be the greatest thing about this splendid project. We like the beauty, the climate, the fishing and recreation of all sorts, and we like the money profit, but to point with pride to beautiful LINCOLN Hills as the product of our own creative genius is still more inspiring.

Lincoln Hills is not an old resort abandoned by others, but a new project, started and supported by the leaders of our Group in Denver and other cities, and destined to become a monument to the vision and constructive ability of the Colored Race.

Lincoln Hills deserves the active cooperation of our people all over the United States and has had my hearty support since I first visited there and saw its many wonderful advantages.

Estes Park is 75 miles from Denver by auto, Red Feather Lakes Resort is 115 miles from Denver, but our own Lincoln Hills is only 34 miles from this great Queen City of the Plains.

Congratulating you on the splendid progress already made, and wishing you continued success in all the cities and towns of the Country, I am,

Sincerely yours,

E. L. Prince

PLEASE ADDRESS YOUR REPLY TO TRUST DEPARTMENT

Gentlemen:

We are familiar with the project of your Company for establishing a summer colony for colored people near Rollinsville, Colorado, having had considerable connection in various ways with the land included in the project. From our knowledge of the source of the title and the ownership of this land we have every reason to believe that the title is good, and from our acquaintance with the personnel of your Company and its methods we should expect every one dealing with the Company to be fairly treated.

Very truly yours,

Thylo Wilson

Dear Sir:

I do not know of any investment that I have ever made which gives me a greater feeling of delight than the lots of Lincoln Hills.

Many of my friends have been told about them. While I am not trying to rush their interest I do feel that very soon you may hear from new prospects.

Since my return, I have been receiving, from some unknown friend, the Denver Star, which keeps me informed as to the doings of the place, and helps as an advertisement for Lincoln Hills.

The great interest as expressed in your future plans for our group impressed me greatly. May there be an abundance of success.

Yours very truly,

Bertha R. Perry

Gentlemen:-

It's Great. It's the keenest pleasure I have ever experienced. It thrills and fills me with love for the out-of-doors and I am finding more genuine fun, health and happiness for both my friends and myself who visit with me at my mountain home than I expected.

My own cottage built by my own hands, painted orange and trimmed in brown, nestled amid the evergreen trees, away from the smoke, noise and confusion of the city and where the air and the water are always pure, fulfills my every desire for rest and recreation.

Many times during the summer months and sometimes two or three times a week I spend my nights at Lincoln Hills and return to my work the next morning.

I appreciate my lots and my cottage so much that I cannot but write you and express my appreciation of your efforts in supplying to me and our group of people the most wonderful mountain resort I have seen in Colorado and I have lived here for many years.

Your prices for lots are so extremely low as compared to other places that are not one half as beautiful as Lincoln Hills and your terms are so easy that it is no wonder that you are meeting with such great success. It is just what we want.

Yours sincerely

O. W. Hamlet.
