Neighbors of Woodcraft - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Neighbors_of_Woodcraft

The origins of the society go back to the Supreme Session of the Woodmen Circle in 1897 when delegates from nine western states led by Mrs. C. C. Van Ornsdall passed a resolution to secede from the parent order and form the Pacific Circle, Women of Woodcraft. The group was headquartered in Leadville, Colorado, but moved to Portland, Oregon in 1905, where it remained through the 1970s. The Neighbors of Woodcraft merged into the Woodmen of the World in July 2001.
